THE BRAILLE CELL

 $1 \bigcirc \bigcirc 4$ $2 \bigcirc \bigcirc 5$ $3 \bigcirc \bigcirc 6$

Every braille character is one cell of six dot positions — 1–3 down the left, 4–6 down the right. Solid dots are the ones you punch; hollow rings you leave. The grey letter under each cell names it. One cell per letter, no contractions, no ambiguity.

SAMPLE - WORD 0001

0001 ABANDON

Seven letters, seven cells. Read each cell against its guide letter; punch the solid dots, skip the rings. Grade 1 is the unambiguous form — the right one for recovery phrases.

“Grade 1” names the braille standard, not the metal — it is unrelated to the Grade 2 titanium the inserts are milled from.

NUMBERS

AND PASSPHRASES

Digits reuse the first ten letters. The number sign # (dots 3-4-5-6) opens a run and holds until a letter or space ends it — 2026 is # b-j-b-f. BIP-39 words never need it; passphrases and dates do.

MIRROR PAIRS - CHECK TWICE

Figure 1 displays eight examples of letters from the alphabet, each represented by a 3x3 grid of dots. The letters are arranged in two rows of four. The first row shows 'e', 'i', 'd', and 'f'. The second row shows 'h', 'j', 'r', and 'w'. Each letter is formed by a unique arrangement of black and white dots on a 3x3 grid.

CAUTION This booklet is a public reference for the standard word list. Never write your actual recovery phrase in it. Never store a marked copy with your wallet.

WALLET TO METAL

Every KeepCrypt device stores a phrase the same way: one hexagonal titanium insert per word. Each face is pre-etched with the six blank rings of one braille cell — the punch turns the right rings into raised dots, exactly as this book prints them: solid to punch, hollow to leave. Clamp the inserts in the supplied jig, work one word at a time, in order, alone, offline.

ON THE TABLE this book · the jig · the punch · the Allen key · your inserts · the words from your wallet — and nothing else

■ SIX FACES - ONE WORD

Each insert is a hexagon. One face carries its pre-engraved sequence number; the other five take your letters, one cell per face. Punch up to the first five letters — the first four already identify any word in the list, so longer words are safe to cut short. In the word list, everything past the fourth letter is printed lighter — that is the part you can leave out.

PRE-SET

01 LOOK UP Take the words exactly as your wallet shows them, in order. The edge tabs lead to each word's letter section.	02 READ Read the word's first five cells against the gray guide letters. Solid dots are marks to make; faint rings stay empty.	03 PUNCH Clamp the inserts in the jig and tighten. Rest the punch in a ring and press — one face per letter, dot 1 at top-left. Rehearse on a spare first.	04 VERIFY Read every face back against this book before assembly. One wrong dot is a different word — check the mirror pairs twice.	05 STORE Reassemble by sequence number, fasten the device shut, install it in plain sight. Destroy any paper copy the same day.

OPEN, MATCH, CLOSE

Both devices hold one complete twelve-word phrase on the same numbered inserts, and both open with tools that ship in the box. What differs is only where the device lives once it is shut again.

[HINGE]	12 WORDS - FULL PHRASE	[SCREW]	12 WORDS - FULL PHRASE
4-IN BUTT HINGE · TITANIUM GR2 PIN · 12 INSERTS	M10 FASTENER · SEALED CAVITY · 12 INSERTS
— Open: back off the blocker screw with the supplied Allen key, press the pin out of the barrel, and open the rod. Inside are 12 inserts, pre-numbered 01 to 12. — Match: insert 01 takes word 01, insert 12 takes word 12. The numbers are the order — you never have to remember it. One rod holds a complete 12-word phrase. — Close: reassemble the rod, slide it back into the barrel, refit the blocker screw and tighten. Fastened, the pin will not pull out under force — and the hinge still swings a door.	— Open: back the Screw out, lift the cap and tip the inserts into the jig. Punched flat and unassembled, they read as blank hardware. — Match: twelve inserts, twelve words, stacked in sequence order — insert 01 nearest the head. One Screw holds a complete 12-word phrase. — Close: seat the cap, seal it, drive the Screw home. In a shelf, a frame, a jamb, it reads as a fastener — nothing about it invites a second look.

READ THIS ONCE

No one can recover this phrase for you.

Not KeepCrypt. Not the maker of your wallet. Not anyone. This book can confirm how a word is spelled, but nothing printed here can tell you the phrase is right — only restoring it into a wallet can. If the metal is wrong and you have no other copy, the coins are gone for good.

BEFORE YOU WALK AWAY
☐ Every face read back against this book	☐ Inserts reassembled in sequence order, 01 first
☐ Device fastened shut and back in place	☐ Whole phrase test-restored from the metal
☐ Every paper copy destroyed	☐ No photograph of the inserts exists anywhere

 NUMBERING The four-digit code beside each word is its position in the official BIP-39 list, 0001 to 2048. Some software counts the same list from 0 — always back up the words themselves, never the numbers. Letters past the fourth are printed lighter: four letters identify any word on the list.
